BIG GAIN SHOWN BY INCOME TAX

$436,228,881 Gain in Receipts
From This Source

$7 PAID $88,885,249

$7,085 Persons in This State Submitted Returns As Compared With 9,674 in 1916—74 Fewer Millionaires.

Washington.—Incomes subject to taxation in the United States during 1918 increased $2,272,556,148 over the total incomes reported for taxation during 1917, according to a report made by the Internal Revenue Bureau. The taxation from such incomes increased during 1918 $436,228,881 over that collected in 1917. There were income was $15,924,639,355 and the total tax collected was $1,127,721,835.

In Maryland, according to the same figures, the total net incomes reported was $303,421,092 for 1918 and the total tax collected was $20,415,237. The incomes reported in Maryland were 1.91 per cent. of the total of $15,924,639,355 reported throughout the United States and the taxation collected in Maryland was 1.81 per cent. of the total taxes collected of $1,127,721,835.

How the income tax has developed until it reaches thousands of persons in Maryland not touched in 1916 is shown graphically by these statistics. In 1916, only 9,674 persons made income tax returns; in 1917, the total had reached 60,954, and in 1918, it was 87,085. The increase in 1917 over 1916 was at the rate of 530 per cent. and the increase in 1918 over 1917 was at the rate of 43 per cent.

The total net incomes reported for taxation, increased at a rapid pace also. In 1916, the total reported was only $121,009,054; in 1917, it was $253,435,289 and in 1918, it was $303,421,092. The taxation collected increased from $2,405,523 in 1916 to $12,378,724 in 1917 and to $20,415,237 in 1918.

The report repeats that Uncle Sam lost 74 millionaires in 1918. That was the period when war production was at its height. Republicans declared in the campaign that thousands of millionaires were created then through extravagance of the Democratic Administration.

Statistics in the report show but 67 returns by individuals with incomes of $1,000,000 and over. This was only seven more than in 1914, the year the European war broke out, when the country had 60 millionaires.

It was in 1915 that the number of millionaires began climbing. They just doubled the previous year, making a total of 120. In 1916, before this country entered the war, the number grew to 206. It dropped in 1917, the first year of Uncle Sam's participation to 141.

Statistics are not yet available for the number of millionaires in the calendar year, 1919.

The figures testify to the efficacy of the income taxes imposed during the war in preventing accumulation of great wealth, and in turning war profits into the Federal Treasury.

70,552 U. S. SOLDIERS GASED.

Constituted More Than 31 Per Cent. Of Hospital Cases.

Washington.—More than 31 per cent. of all American soldiers admitted to hospitals overseas during the World War were gassed, according to a statement just made public by the Chemical Warfare Service. Excluding marines and sailors the total of American soldiers gassed was 70,552, of whom 1,221 died and 2,853, or 4.04 per cent., were discharged as having suffered some disability from gassing.

Every effort to prepare this country with an efficient gas defense in the event of another war is being made by chemical experts, according to officials of the service. Fifteen thousand chemists have moment's notice and are constantly engaged in research in order to perfect all kinds of gases for use in the event of hostilities.

At the same time, officials added, chemists are working out defensive measures by which America could meet an enemy's gas attack.

UKRAINIANS BEATEN BY REDS.

Evacuate Kiev And Other Towns in Their Flight.

Warsaw.—The Ukrainians have evacuated Kiev and other towns they had occupied and are fleeing defeated before the new Russian soviet offensive. The Bolshevik cavalry has swept through the Ukrainian lines at various points. Three of General Petliura's divisions were surrounded by soviet troops when the Ukrainian left wing broke because of bad communications.

PREFERS DEATH TO MATRIMONY.

Billy Sunday Convert Tries To Kill Self.

Rock Island, Ill.—Desiring to live in accord with the preaching of "Billy" Sunday, but balking at the evangelist's call for all bachelors to marry, Andrew L. Lofquist, unmarried at 48, attempted suicide as the only way out. He is in a critical condition, having slashed his wrists with a razor. Sunday conducted a campaign here a year ago.

The French Government organization charged with the manufacture of cigarettes will increase the output by installing machinery that will turn out 750,000 a day.

MANY PERSONS KILLED IN DUBLIN

Military Officers and Former Officers Shot Down

BLACK AND TANS SLAY TEN

Government Claim Visit Was Made To Search Gunmen Connected With Attacks On Military.

Dublin.—Twenty-five persons are dead and nearly 70 wounded as the result of an outbreak of assassination and reprisal here Sunday.

Sinn Fein struck first. Fourteen British officers and secret service men were shot dead and at least 10 others wounded in a pre-arranged murder plot, when they were attacked in a concerted movement that extended to all parts of the city.

The auxiliary police later exacted terrible revenge. Breaking through the barriers at the Croke football grounds where 15,000 people were watching a match, the cadets of the Royal Irish Constabulary opened fire on the crowd, killed 11 and wounded more than 50.

Shooting was renewed at midnight and many persons are reported killed. Fire also is said to have broken out in various parts of the city.

The Dublin outbreak resulted in the greatest number of casualties in a single day since the 1916 rebellion.

POLICE TAKE REVENGE FOR MURDER OF OFFICERS

Fire Into Crowd At Football Match Killing Between 10 And 30.

Dublin.—Following the widespread assassinations Sunday morning, the police struck in the afternoon, when 16 lorries filled with Black and Tans surrounded Croke Park, where a football game was in progress between the Tipperary and Dublin teams.

Accounts differ as to what happened when, after mounting machine guns on heights above, the police broke through the gates. The auxiliaries were hooted and, according to eye witnesses, first fired in the air and then into the crowd. It is declared from another source that Sinn Fein pickets first fired on the Government forces when they were seen approaching and that the fire was returned.

Within the park the great assembly of 15,000 became panic-stricken. How many were killed is not known as yet, but the estimates range from 10 to 30 or more. Several are reported to have been trampled to death.

An official version of the affair says that the auxiliary police visited Croke Park for the purpose of searching the crowd, as it was known that many gunmen connected with the murders earlier in the day were present.

About 3,000 persons were searched and many revolvers were found.

An eyewitness describing the scene said that while the football match was in progress parties of Black and Tans armed with rifles came on the field. They were hooted by the crowd and almost immediately they fired into the masses of people. This witness says he counted more than 30 who fell.

In addition to the casualties due to the firing a man and a woman were killed in the crash owing to the crowd stampeding.

Shooting began again in the streets just before midnight and a number of people are reported killed. There is much military activity.

GIRLS' ROLLED HOSE BARRED.

Randolph-Macon Issues Ultimatum, It Is Reported.

Danville, Va.—Girl students at the Randolph-Macon Institute, part of the great Southern Methodist institution, have been told in blunt terms they must wear their stockings and their mothers taught them, and not in conformity with fashion's latest edict, which provides for the rolling process and knee lengths.

From reliable sources comes word that within the past few days the faculty was called together and served what was little short of an ultimatum to the student body. Failure to comply met with severe reprimands.

It is alleged that certain young sophomores, who cling to college traditions, have been "rolling their own" with ruthless disregard to feet and meters. The students have accepted the order with philosophy, it is said.

U. S. EXPENSES DROP $1,230,000,000 IN OCTOBER.

Washington.—Nearly $1,230,000,000 less was spent by the Government in October than in September, the monthly treasury statement shows.

Expenditures for the two months were: Ordinary—October, $426,497,372; September, $496,776,654—Public debt, October, $287,945,288; September, $1,337,316,873.

Interest on public debt, $114,276,946 was the largest item of ordinary expenditures; railroad disbursements, $70,456,675, second; $269,494,500 for certificate redemption was the largest public debt payment.

"JUSTICE JOHN" DIES.

Police Magistrate Of Virginia Noted For Witcidisms.

Richmond, Va.—John Jeter Crutchfield, whose witcidisms delivered as justice of police court here for 32 years made his court nationally known as "Justice John's Court," died at the age of 76 years. Numerous short stories and articles were written about "Justice John" and his court was a regular stopping place for tourists.

95-YEAR-OLD WOMAN DOCTOR PREDICTS TIME WILL COME WE'LL LIVE TO BE 1,000.

Omaha, Neb.—"I believe the time will come when we will live to be 1,000," declared Dr. Charlotte M. DeGollere Davenport, mother of 11 sons, one of whom is 78 years old, speaking before the Omaha Theosophical Society. Dr. Davenport is 95 and for years has been a lecturer on personal hygiene.

Fitting youthful actions with wise epigrams, the doctor kept the audience in a riot of applause.

"Women don't educate the men right," she said. "A woman came to me the other day and said she wanted her bust developed."

"I asked her why she did not have her mind developed. She said: 'I can make a better go of it with a good bust than a good mind.'"

DEMOCRATIC HEAD TO RESIGN.

Tumulty Or Woolley Suggested As White's Successor.

Washington.—George H. White, of Ohio, will resign as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Members of the committee have been asked to look out for a successor.

Democratic leaders are at sea as to whom they should name. Two names mentioned in this connection are those of Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, and Robert W. Woolley, now a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Older members of the committee want a good organizer, who has not been affiliated with any particular group. Mr. Tumulty's intimate relation with the President and his Administration might bar him. Mr. Woolley is from the South, and there is a disposition to go to the North or West rather than a Southern State for a leader.

The only thing certain is that the present chairman will quit, and resume his private business.

BATTLE FOLLOWS BANK ROBBERY

Roanoke Police Kill One Man And Arrest Two In Auto.

Roanoke, Va.—The Bank of Glasgow, at Glasgow, Va., was robbed of $150,000 in Liberty Bonds and currency, and three hours later Roanoke police held up an automobile and, after a pistol battle, killed one of the three occupants, took the other two prisoners and recovered the loot from the bank. In the battle Patrolman O. L. Hendrix was slightly wounded.

The dead man, according to the police, is James E. Rodgers, 28 years old, of Philadelphia. The men under arrest gave their names as Charles Carter, 35, of Cincinnati, and William Porter, 47, of Washington, D. C.

Chief of Police Rigney expressed the belief that the trio was implicated in a series of robberies recently committed in North Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and Tennessee.

COURT UPHOLDS CHECK RULE.

Declares Reserve Banks Have Special Status In Law.

New Orleans, La.—The right of Federal Reserve Banks to require non-member State banks and trust companies to clear checks at par, without discount for exchange was upheld by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in affirming the refusal of the District Court in Georgia to grant injunctions against the practice.

The court, in its opinion, declared that the Federal Reserve Banks hold a special status in law, and are not subject to regulations affecting national banks, or to the jurisdiction of State courts.

PRESIDENT WILSON BETTER.

Reported To Have Improved Since Election.

Washington.—President Wilson's health was said by White House officials to have shown improvement since the election and the consequent removal of the anxiety shown by the President over the decision of the electorate. Despite the cold weather, Mr. Wilson spends some time each day on the south porch of the White House. He also is devoting much time to public business and to the preparation of his annual message to Congress.

ALL SAFE BUT ONE.

Red Cross Workers Who Were Prisoners Of Bolsheviks.

Washington.—All members of the American Red Cross unit to South Russia except Captain Emmett Kilpatrick, who was captured several weeks ago by Bolsheviks, are safe in Constantinople, cable advices to Red Cross headquarters, said. Supplies and equipment were also saved from capture by Soviet troops.

CHINESE LOAN APPROVED.

Formal Agreement Of Four Powers Announced.

New York.—Formal approval of the new Chinese consortium by the Governments of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan was announced here by J. P. Morgan & Co. in behalf of the American banking group.

HAD $18,000 IN AUTO TIRE.

Henderson, N. C.—L. V. Graves, postoffice clerk, formerly of Omaha, Neb., who was arrested charged with theft of registered packages from the postoffice here, was said by postoffice inspectors to have had $18,000 concealed in an extra tire on his automobile when taken into custody. The inspectors said they found $17,000 in cash and a $1,000 Liberty bond in the tire.

Hospital Room
No. 14

By WILL T. AMES

(© 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Miss McClintock, the businesslike Canadian supervisor, found Nurse Padgett coming out of the diet kitchen with a breakfast tray destined for room 14. "Nurse," said the supervisor, "you are impersonal military manner. You are relieved. Go to the dormitory now and at seven report to Night Supervisor Henry. You are to take Nurse Bourdette's place in the women's free ward; she is called home by the sudden illness of her mother. I will take the tray—who is it for?"

"Room 14. Very well, supervisor." Superfluous conversation between nurses and supervisors was discouraged in the hospital, particularly any discussion of explicit orders. So Nurse Padgett, surrendering the napkin-covered tray, marched like a soldier down the long corridor and the long stairway and straight to her tiny room in the detached dormitory.

Evelyn Padgett was in the last year of her training course. As she sat at her window abstractedly gazing out over the city, spread clean in the morning light on three sides of Hospital Hill, it occurred to her that her new detail carried with it something very like an honor, for Maida Bourdette was head nurse in the women's free ward, and a two-year graduate—and never before since Evelyn had been in the hospital had a trainer been left in charge of any ward, even in any emergency.

"I suppose I ought to be grateful to old McClintock," soliloquized the girl. Then she proceeded to demonstrate her delight by doing something that three-year trainees are supposed to be all through with—she began to cry, quietly but earnestly.

For ten days Nurse Padgett had been taking care of Hugh Norris, otherwise and professionally designated as room 14. Hugh had brought back from France, a sliver of shrapnel mixed up with the muscles of his neck.

Lately the sliver had been acting queerly, and Norris' doctor had decided that it had best come out of that before it made serious trouble for the ex-soldier's vertebrae. So there had been an operation, with much subsequent fussing with bandages, etc., and with the collateral hunger for codding which every big boy marooned on a bed of convalescence experiences.

Ten days is not long in the viewpoint of a geologist or of an antiquarian society. But in the St. Michael salient, or in the life of a lad and a lass, it can work stupendous changes. Yesterday Room Fourteen had said:

"Nurse, do you know whom you remind me of? Well, it's my mother—her picture when she was a girl." And he had been very serious and earnest about it, too, though as a matter of fact Evelyn resembled that long-gone mother not at all.

Evelyn's heart had jumped right up into her throat when Room Fourteen said that, for the girl doesn't live who can't analyze the meaning of this particular compliment. She had laughed lightly and replied: "Does that mean you want sugar on your bread and butter? Well, you can't have it unless the doctor says so."

And she got herself quickly out of the room with the luncheon things—but in the long, deserted corridor she hastily kissed the corner of the napkin he had wiped his lips with.

And now Room Fourteen would be going out, certainly inside of a week—and what chance was there of Bourdette's returning within that time? None, of course. She would not be able to see him again. The rigid hospital discipline would prevent that—and even if it were not so, how could a self-respecting girl go throwing herself in a patient's way without genuine reasons in the line of duty?

If only Maida Bourdette's mother had taken some other time to be ill! At this thought Evelyn sat up very suddenly and very straight. Maida had no mother! She was an orphan and herself had told Evelyn that she had not been on speaking terms with her stepmother for two years. There was something queer, then, about this sudden absence of Nurse Bourdette.

Nurse Padgett's little lead all at once became a perfect whirl of exciting speculations, as the result of which, after she had thought and thought till almost noon, Evelyn took her courage in her hand and went to see the supervisor.

At one o'clock Miss McClintock wired a certain Mrs. Georgiana Bourdette in a neighboring state: "Is your illness serious enough to require presence of daughter?" At four came this reply: "Have no daughter. Wouldn't let Ida B. touch me if I was dying."

At 4:30 Miss McClintock, stern and inquisitorial, sat in her office with Nurse Haliburton, the prettiest girl in the training personnel and the most troublesome that had ever managed to remain for a third year in that institution. They had been closeted for 15 minutes, and now Miss McClintock was summing up, like a judge. She said: "So you admit, nurse, that you know the patient in room 14 by sight, and—with your usual susceptibility—were, as your kind of girl calls it, 'crazy' about him; that on three different occasions you slighted your own work and tried to induce Nurse Padgett to let you substitute temporarily for her so that you might become acquainted with this patient; that Padgett refused each time; that on your mutual half day out you and Nurse Bourdette discussed Nurse Padgett and your interest in room 14; that Nurse Bourdette declared she did not like Nurse Padgett because she was 'too fussy and strait-laced,' and would like to help you get her out of room 14's service and get you in; that Nurse Bourdette finally announced that she had long been determined on an extra vacation and that she might as well go now as later, inasmuch as there was a shortage of graduate nurses and Nurse Padgett would be sure to be assigned to her place in the women's free ward and the regular routine of assignments would give you room 14 and the rest of Padgett's patients. Have I stated the case correctly?"

Tearfully a very penitent trainer admitted the truth of the indictment. "Very well. Go to the dormitory. I will submit your case to the superintendent. Ask Nurse Padgett to come to me, please."

Miss McClintock was military and businesslike and could be cold and stern, but she had a magnificent sense of justice. To Evelyn she said:

"Your surmise was correct, nurse. Conspiracies among the personnel cannot be permitted to regulate the course of events in this institution. For that reason you will resume your former detail at once. Other arrangements will be made for the women's free."

Nurse Bourdette's week off was indefinitely extended, so far as that hospital was concerned. Nurse Haliburton's half days off were spent within the institution's limits for the rest of her training service—and she regarded herself as a lucky girl.

And as for Nurse Padgett and Room Fourteen—why, what in the perfectly natural, uninterfered-with order of events would occur to a man who solemnly compared a little, rather squint-eyed blonde mother, finding them alike—and a girl who secretly kissed the napkin his lips had touched? If there is any schizoid of doubt, be it known that the wedding announcements bore the date of the day following that year's nurses' graduation.

FRUIT'S WEIRD BLOOD STAIN

Peculiarity of the "Mike Apple" Which Is Grown Only in One Spot in Connecticut.

Science having failed to explain the "why" of the "Mike apple," local superstition and legend have undertaken the task. The Mike apple is grown only in Connecticut, and was first noted in 1716 on a farm near Norwich. At that date it was discovered that all the apples in a certain orchard had, somewhere in their heart, a red fleck as brightly crimson as a drop of blood. Chemical analysis failed to show any difference between the red spot and the rest of the apple. Ever since, trees planted from the seed of the Norwich orchard have retained the spot.

Legend declares that Micah Root, the owner of the orchard, suddenly changed from a happy-go-lucky young farmer to a sour, suspicious, unpleasant chap. History proves that he died in an asylum in 1728. At the time he changed in his attitude toward the world an apple tree in his orchard bore red blossoms instead of white. This, taken in connection with his attitude, aroused the suspicion of his neighbors, who remembered the disappearance of a young peddler following his stopping all night at Root's home. The orchard was dug up, but nothing discovered. When the apples ripened that fall the red spot appeared, and the passing years have failed to eradicate it from the fruit.

Oil in Bible Spots.

The asphalt springs of Hit, from which Noah probably obtained the "pitch" with which he made the ark impervious to the "flood of waters," have now been thoroughly examined with a view to their commercial possibilities. The petroleum deposits of the land of Shinar, between the Tigris and the Euphrates, which furnished the "slime" that the descendants of Noah "had for mortar" in building the Tower of Babel, have been measured as well as can be until the bit of the oil drifter is sent down to prove whether the geologist is right or not. And the sources of bitumen which archaeologists have found was used as cement in constructing the ancient palaces of Babylon and Nineveh have undoubtedly been located.—John K. Barnes in the World's Work.

besides the entertainment of their beauty, your eyes will be saluted with the charming colors and curiosity of the humming bird, which revels among the flowers, and ticks off the dew and honey from their tender leaves, and which it only feeds. Its size is not half so large as an English wren, and its color is a glorious shining mixture of scarlet, green and gold.—Robert Beverley.

Carefully Explained.

She—How do you mean, she is burning the candle at both ends?
He—She is running her high powered car on dividends she expects from her wildcat oil stocks.—Life.

Femininity's Advantage.

Another thing about femininity is that under favorable conditions it can look fragile, delicate and even spirituelle while overbearing.

Suited to the Job.

"What is the man you just employed doing in the hose department?"
"I think it is very likely he is stocking up."

HATS OF THE DAY

Headgear Is Picturesque, but Not Decidedly Novel. TAILLEUR WITH HIGH COLLAR

Widest Departure From Season's Styles Is Small Model Which Suggests Spanish Headdress.

Whether it is the hats that decide the type of costume to be worn or whether it is the costume which determines the fashion of the hat is a mooted question. If it is the hats that are the forerunners of the season's fashions, asserts a fashion authority, then we need expect no very striking new modes.

The hats are picturesque, charming in line, and very becoming, but they are not decidedly novel. The widest departure from the season's styles is a small hat which suggests the Spanish headdress. A representative model of this type has a comb of black velvet, high in the back, with tiny yellow buttercups growing over it. Of course there is a frill of black lace and a short lace veil in mantilla effect.

Drooping plumage promises to be more popular as a trimming than the more erect angles. A very chic model of this type is a black panne velvet toque trimmed with glycerated ostrich feathers in nasturtium shades sweeping off at one side.

Lace veils hold a prominent place. Fur is used in many amusing ways for trimming. Fur bows placed at unusual angles are by no means the least striking.

All the toque shapes, large and small ones, will be very good for the season. A smart example of the smaller toque is made of black velvet and embroidered with melon seeds of cut steel and with bits of branched red coral.

Feathers of all kinds are lavishly used, but burnt ostrich is the favorite. Among the new trimmings are horse's hair and elephant's whiskers.

Veil Drapery of Black Chantilly Lace Held in Place by a Bit of Silver Braids.

which are being used in the manufacture of imitation alpacas. Black velvet is by far the most popular hat fabric.

TO BE WORN AROUND THROAT

Silver, Pearl and Ivory Decorations Are Used for Wonderful New Necklace.

Three lovely things there are to wear around your throat—the first of silver, the second of pearl and the third of ivory, finely carved! Sounds like the sleeping beauty's birthday.

Clothes of French Tots

Plaid Frocks Favorite for Both the Little Men and the Little Women.

French children today are as, attractively and rationally dressed as any children in the world, says Vogue. This year the little girl's frocks are widened at the hips in various Eighteenth-century fashions, or they have the full gathered skirts and basques of the middle of the last century. Children are wearing Roumainian, Czech, Slovak and Jugo-Slav embroideries without having to bother their heads about the geographical positions or political aims of these complicated countries. Their elders have adopted scarab and lotus embroideries, with swinging girdles tied low about the hips and vague gaudous draping their shoulders and the little people follow suit. Their diminutive frocks are edged with symbols of the greatness of old Egypt, while bright colored wraps of crepe de chine cover their little tunic frocks, which are too classic presents or a charm for perpetual youth. Here's a close-up of the three wonderful new necklaces.

A collar that turns into the jaunty scarf imaginable makes this well-tailored suit very smart. The material is ribbed wool velours in Siberian squirrel gray.

The tiniest and daintiest of little round sterling silver beads are polished to a high luster and strung very close together. Five or six of these strands with ends caught in a jeweled clasp form a necklace of surprising brilliancy. To be common but honest, they "sure do make a show" and look several times their real cost, which is not expensive.

For evening wear, such a necklace is quite as rich and more distinctive than the everlasting strand of pearls. But if you're a pearl worshiper, don't let us turn your faith. Rejoice in a narrow black neck ribbon with ends weighted by shining tassels of seed pearls. An elaborate mounting of brilliants joins the ribbon to the tassels and little slides of brilliants set in white gold slip all around the ribbon up and down.

The third offering also depends on a black ribbon, or more cleverly on a fine black cord. It's an exquisitely carved medallion of creamy ivory—a budding chrysanthemum or a full opened rose. These medallions are about the size of a silver dollar and form a very catchy little encore to last winter's penchant for carved ivory beads.

Fashionable Combination. Metal brocade and navy blue serge make a fashionable combination.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Fall millinery is distinctly feathered. Wood color is a favorite fall shade. The three-piece costume will be a favorite.

Now Almost Staple Style

Plaid Skirt With Plain Jacket, Coat or Overblouse, Affords Smart and Serviceable Outfit.

A type of out-of-door costume that has held sway for so many seasons that it has now become a "staple" style is the plaid skirt with plain jacket, coat or overblouse. Sometimes the coat or jacket is absolutely untrimmed so that it bears no definite relationship to the plaid skirt. Just as frequently the coat is equipped with collar, cuffs, pocket facings and perhaps a belt of the plaid.

A woman will frequently possess a suit coat or jacket that shows little wear, while the skirt meant to accompany it is frayed and out of date as to style line. It is possible to use such a coat and give it a new lease of life by selecting a smart plaid separate skirt to go with it, buying enough of the plaid material of which the skirt is made to make collar, cuffs, etc., for the last season jacket.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Insist on Genuine Ford Parts

Imitation "Ford" parts are being sold by many mail order houses, downtown stores and garages to unsuspecting Ford owners as "Ford" parts. But they are not Genuine Ford parts. They are made by concerns who have no connection whatsoever with the Ford Motor Company. Tests have shown them to break when the genuine Ford parts didn't even bend.

The Authorized Ford Dealers are your protection. As such, we handle nothing but the Genuine Ford parts. They are made from the famous Ford Vanadium Steel, and each part—according to its use—is heat-treated in the way that will give it the longest wearing qualities.

BACKS BENTON'S WIDOW

GREAT Britain's demand for reparation to the widow of William S. Benton, who was murdered in Mexico in February, 1914, has met with a favorable response, and the widow is to receive a sum of money which will keep her in comfortable circumstances the remainder of her life. It doesn't pay for any nation to take the life of a British citizen. John Bull is on the job to protect his sons and daughters. Of course nothing effective has been done by our State Department looking to reparations from Mexico for the several hundred murders of American citizens who were peaceably conducting their affairs in Mexico. Americans have been given to understand by the present Administration that if they entered into business in foreign lands they did so at their own risk, and the protection of the flag was removed from them. After March 4th the American abroad will not have to hustle into hiding, or seek refuge in a foreign legation every time the country he is visiting, or in which he is doing business, is taken with a fit of homicidal mania. We are going to get back to the plane where we were when Roosevelt told the Moroccan brigand, through the Moroccan sultan, that it was not healthy to tamper with the freedom and threaten the life of an unoffending American citizen. Americans abroad will no longer apologize for living.

PALM TO PALMER

ALL the charges brought against Mr. Palmer for his inefficient administration of the Department of Justice appear to be eclipsed by the proceedings at Indianapolis. In effect the Attorney-General is accused of ordering Assistant Attorneys not to use certain evidence that would have aided in the convictions of violators. Apparently Mr. Palmer is not far off. The end of the dog is not far off. He is spent and feeble after his long and weary journeys over the plains and blinding sands with his pioneer master. He will no doubt soon fall asleep.

DESERT HERO KNOWN TO FEW

Dog That, With Its Master, Was Savior of Many Lives, Well Cared For in Its Old Age.

Rufus, the dog hero of the desert, who has saved many lives, is ending his declining days in a dog sanatorium at Pasadena, Cal., where he is well cared for. The end of the dog is not far off. He is spent and feeble after his long and weary journeys over the plains and blinding sands with his pioneer master. He will no doubt soon fall asleep.

Lou Westcott Beck and Rufus were intrepid pioneers in a life-saving project that received scanty support and tardy recognition. Together they fared forth on their mission of mercy, Beck carrying signboards and cans of paint, Rufus laden with saddlebags of restoratives and poison antidote. While the man set up the guldpots, or painted the water signs, the dog secured many a prospector who otherwise would have died miserably from delirium of thirst or the venom of snake bites.

The work of these two great benefactors is over. Beck died in July, 1917, and since then the government has appropriated one hundred thousand dollars to carry on the project that he and his devoted dog started. Rufus will be well provided for by a veterinarian who was a personal friend of Beck's. The old dog's years of hardships, of life-saving service on the desolate wastes, are not without their reward. His many friends who used to see him on the streets and pat him with approval as he started out on his desert trips will not forget him in his old age.

ENCOURAGE BIRDS TO NEST

Only Through Them Can the Many Insect Pests Be Kept Within the Bounds of Safety.

Of all the ways of ridding our gardens, parks and farms of the insect pests that destroy fruit, grain, and even trees, none is so effective as the encouragement of birds. Most birds are naturally insect eaters, and it is really amazing to count the number of beetles, bugs, caterpillars and grubs that a small bird will devour in a day.

Andre Godard, a French naturalist, remarks in a recent number of La Nature (Paris) that agricultural plagues invariably follow the disappearance of birds, and he notes that the forests of Hungary were saved by the placing of many artificial nests to attract the feathered enemies of the grubs that were destroying the trees.

It is true that a few birds eat fruit and grain, but even these prefer insects, and it is probably true in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred that the bird which seems to be eating the fruit is really pecking at an insect inside it.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you have not yet started on a place of your own do not delay. Get full particulars about some of the following properties.

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup

It would surprise you to know the number of people who use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. J. N. Rose, Verona, Pa., writes "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used by myself and husband for a number of years for coughs and colds. I also gave it to my little granddaughter three and a half years of age when she had croup last winter. It broke up the attack at once. I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends and neighbors who have also used it with good results."

Serious Results From Colds

Colds not only cause a tremendous financial loss but are also a serious injury to every one who contracts them as they lower the vitality and prepare the system for the more serious diseases. It is not at all unusual for people who have serious lung trouble to say "I had a hard cold last winter." Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can.

Some banks are mere selfish money mills whose grist is chiefly for the benefit of a few rich stockholders with the least possible benefit to anyone else.

Hence the significance of our name "THE PEOPLES" which means that "THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK" seeks both its own and its depositors' and customers' profit—in other words, that it is in truth a "PEOPLES" Bank.

Zazu Pitts

"The Heart of Twenty"

Zazu Pitts, is surely working her way into the hearts of our movie-goers, and is sure to please them in "The Heart of Twenty." This is a mello-drama of an entirely different type from any you have seen her in. Remember our Monday night shows are always good. Strand comedy—"Her Self Commencer." Pathe News.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30th

PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT COR. Presents

Wallace Reid

"The Lottery Man"

This is a wonderful star—considered one of Paramount's best. He raffled himself off as the first prize in a marriage lottery—that's how the comedy starts, and the lottery is a $100,000 women, all colors, ages and size buy $1.00 chance on the handsome hero. But he is game, he sticks to his bargain, even though he's engaged to the only girl. The play was a big Broadway success. It will be a bigger success as a picture. 6th episode of "Bride 13," the great serial. Rolan comedy.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1st

A PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT PICTURE Featuring

Billie Burke

"Sadie Love"

She couldn't make her love behave. Not even when she was safely married, and she hadn't been a wife ten minutes till she changed her mind, and then Jimmie hove out of her past. She decided to marry him. Puff! Said Sadie—"What's 10 minutes when Jimmie loved me a whole year." This picture will surely make you laugh. Larry Semon in 2 reel comedy "Do Drop In." Fox News.

Earle Williams

"The Master Stroke"

Earle Williams is considered Vitaphone's best star and in this picture "The Master Stroke" he is shown at his best. A wonderful picture with a wonderful theme. Mack-Sennett 2 reel comedy, "Back to the Kitchen." Pathe News.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3d

REALART Presents

Wanda Hawley

"Her Beloved Villain"

She found another woman's scarf in her husband's pocket the next morning. Otherwise he would have gotten away with his story. And when further search revealed a wine bill for two and a cloth mask, it was all up with him. This is one of the complications of the most delicious force-comedy on the screen "Her Beloved Villain" in which Wanda Hawley is starring. 14th episode "Silent Avenger," featuring William Duncan. Mutt and Jeff.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4th

WILLIAM FOX Presents

Buck Jones

"Sunset Sprang"

LAST NIGHT'S DREAMS

—WHAT THEY MEAN

DID YOU DREAM ABOUT SHEEP?

MOST dreams of rural life and country scenes appear to be regarded by the authorities of Dreamland as favorable omens. To dream of seeing a flock of sheep, for instance, is a very good indication for the future. To be surrounded by them increases the good luck and a flock of lambs foretells even more good luck than a flock of sheep. But just to gaze upon a flock of sheep feeding in the pastures of your dreams means that you will have success in life.

If you are unmarried and dream that you are watching the little lambs skip about, your sweetheart is faithful and of a good disposition. Also, if you are a man, the lady of your choice is inclined to say "Yes," if you will but pop the question. If you are married and see sheep or lambs in the visions of your slumbers you will have children who will acquire riches and be a great comfort to you. If you pick up a lamb and carry it in your dreams you will be a lucky person indeed.

If a sailor dreams of sheep it means great luck and a safe and prosperous voyage to him. If you see yourself shearing sheep it is an indication that you will shortly make money by a business enterprise, though, according to some of the wisecracks, it means that you will have to struggle hard for this success. But it isn't good to see the sheep running away from you, for that indicates that some of your pretended friends are really trying to injure you. It is a warning to be on your guard. Also it is a bad sign to hear the lambs baa or to see them killed. If you see your flock of dream sheep lean and scraggy look out for your investments carefully if you would profit by them.

With the few exceptions noted the lambs and muttons of Dreamland are much to be desired and come far cheaper than in the markets of the world of actualities, the food profiteer not as yet having obtained a foothold in the realm of shadows.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

How to Succeed—How to Get

Ahead—How to Make Good

By JESSIE ROBERTS

JOB AND YOUR HEALTH

IS A WOMAN as strong as a man?

Given the same stature and weight, can she do equally hard work and not suffer for it?

Among many other matters that the war proved or disproved, this seems also to be settled—and settled in the negative. She can't!

Woman can do the same work, given a like training. But she breaks down under it where the man remains uninjured.

In France and England women for five years did the work of men. They have not stood up under the strain as men do. In England, physicians' reports show that of two thousand five hundred women examined in one industry, 42 per cent were found to be suffering from severe physical exhaustion or actual ill health, brought on by overwork. Yet men stood up under the same work without difficulty.

We are none of us likely to go into munition factories or to undertake heavy labor. But there is more in this than the fact that a woman ought not to attempt such feats. A girl who is looking about for a job ought to think of it in regard to herself—in regard to her health. The nervous and high-strung girl should not take up telephoning, for instance, nor should she go into a large and noisy office. She won't stand the strain.

A girl I knew who made a success of a small tea and lunch room got ambitious and took the whole house.
She rented rooms and served a dinner as well as breakfast and lunch. She gave good meals and good service, had a large force of assistants to manage,

and in six months she broke down and had to go to a sanitarium.

What's the use?

Your health is priceless. And once shaken, it isn't easy to get into good shape again. Look at your health as part of your capital, and conserve it.
Never let your job borrow from that capital. There are times when you cannot control the thing, and when you do you must do the best you can and hope to get through with it. But most of us are just careless. It doesn't pay.

HOLIDAY GOOD THINGS.

As Christmas draws near we turn to the good old-fashioned cakes and candies.

Gala Cake.

Cream one-half cupful of shortening,
add one cupful of granulated sugar.
Beat two egg yolks until light, add to them one-half cupful of sugar. Beat the egg and sugar mixture into the batter and sugar, and when thoroughly blended add one cupful of milk alternately with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Beat well and fold in the stiffly beaten whites and pour into a single loaf cake pan, buttered and papered and bake thirty minutes. When cool, spread with.

A Christmas Bowl.

Bake six greenings and three Bald-wins without removing the skins or cores. When tender add four quarts of boiling water, the thin yellow rind of three lemons and four oranges and two bay leaves. Let simmer twenty minutes then strain through a bag, pressing out the juice. Boil three cupfuls of sugar with a pint of water 20 minutes. Add to the liquid with one cupful of black tea infusion and set aside to become cold. Then add the fruit juices and a small bottle of maraschino cherries with the syrup.
Let stand several hours before serving.

Corn Balls.

Put three tablespoonfuls of butter into a saucepan and when melted add two cupfuls of molasses and two-thirds of a cupful of sugar. Stir until the sugar is dissolved. Boil until the mixture is brittle when dropped in cold water. Pour over six quarts of popped corn. Butter the fingers and shape into balls before it gets too cool.

Peanut Brittle.

Melt a cupful or more of sugar in a smooth frying pan stirring until a good brown; pour over a pan of pen-nuts and put to cool.

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE MYSTERY.

Heard a rustle in the brush

Only yesterday;

Heard a rustle in the hush,

Somethin' out of sight—

Jest a footfall on the ground,

Shakin' of a tree;

But we argued all around

What the thing could be.

Jack, the stable-boy, he said

Likely 'twas a colt—

Farmer's colt that got its head

Broke its halter holt.

Bill, the cookhouse flunkey, swore

'Twas a bear or cub

Huntin' round the cookhouse door

For a snack of grub.

Pete, who likes to hunt when fall

Comes around each year,

Said it wasn't that at all—

'Twas a deer.

Frank, who drives the two-ox pair,

Said they made him half,

Said their colts or deer or bear

Simply was a calf.

So they set an' argued

What the thing could be;

Every fellow took a side,

Had a theory.

Jack he chimed in with the chaps,

Bill with all the boys;

Mac, who's deaf, he said perhaps

There wasn't any noise.

What the rustle was about,

No one ever knew;

But one fact I figured out:

From that gabby crew:

People look with different eyes,

Hear with different ears;

That what closest to them lies,

Everything appears.

Every nation is the best

To the man from there.

Every state beats all the rest

When their sons compare.

Do you wonder at the lot

Of religious creeds?

Each a special God has got

For his special needs.

Harpers an' music fer the gay,

Huntin' fer the red;

Athletes expect to stay

Permanently dead;

Streets of sapphire fer the Jew;

Fer the weary, rest—

Each, accordin' to his view,

Thinks his heaven best.

An' I'm puzzled, I admit,

Puzzled at the maze—

Heaven, you kin finger it

Forty-seven ways:

Heaven with a street of gold;

With a Jasper gate;

Heaven where the very old

Still must sit an' wait.

If there are so many there,

There beyond the blue,

Heavens round an' heavens square

Gentle, Injun, Jew—

All that I can do is trust,

Since they can't agree,

When I lay me "dust to dust"

There'll be one fer me.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"CIGAR."

A Nymphet of prominent Littre, have endeavored to prove the word "cigar" is derived from the Spanish cigarra, meaning grasshopper, and that it was applied to the rolled leaves of tobacco by reason of their similarity in shape to the body of this insect. This explanation, while ingenious, hardly fits the facts in the case, for when tobacco was first introduced into Spain from Cuba, it was grown in gardens or cigarales, as the Spanish call them.

The weather Spaniards had a fad of raising tobacco in their cigarales, and making their own cigars, which they would proffer with the explanation "Es de mi cigarra!" ("It is from my garden") as proof that the tobacco was wholesome and home-grown. Before long the expression changed to "Este cigarro es de mi cigarra," which might be translated, "This garden product from my garden," and it was from this that the word "cigar" originated.

However, in the final analysis,

the grasshopper does have something to do with it—for the Spanish "cigarra!" or "garden" is so-called because it is the place where the grasshopper ("cigarra") resides.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

The tenderloin of beef is considered a great dainty, but unless it is cooked with good seasoning it is insipid

and unpalatable.

Larded Beef Tenderloin With Bananas.—For
larding use a strip of salt pork
near the rind.

Cut the pork in narrow strips one-fourth of an inch thick and one-fourth of an inch wide, as long as possible.
Chill the larders in ice water and draw them into the beef with a larding needle, inserting them in rows.

Sear the meat until the meat is brown on all sides, then leave to cool on the larded side. Baste six or more times while roasting, season with salt, pepper, bits of onion, green pepper, garlic or parsley as one's taste dictates. When the meat is cooked surround with small cooked bananas and pour over the bananas two cupfuls of Poivrade sauce. The bananas may be baked in the pan with the meat or in a separate saucepan. Cook them about twenty minutes.

Poivrade Sauce.—Put two tablespoonfuls of the trimmings from the salt pork into a saucepan and cook slowly until the fat is drawn out. Add two slices of onion, five slices of carrot, two sprigs of parsley, a bit of bay leaf and a slice of green pepper. Let cool until all are softened and yellowed. Drain off the fat, add one-fourth of a cupful of vinegar and let stand on the back of the stove until the vinegar is reduced one-half. To the fat drained from the vegetables add butter to make four tablespoonfuls. When hot add four tablespoonfuls of flour and let cool until slightly brown, then add one and one-half cupfuls of brown stock and stir until boiling. Add the vegetables and vinegar, boil up once, then strain over one-half cupful of salted raisins cooked tender in boiling water; finish with three tablespoonfuls of grape juice and the same of currant jelly.

Peach Cherbet.—Boil one quart of water and two cupfuls of sugar 15 minutes; let cool and add one and one-half cupfuls of peach pulp and juice and the juice of one lemon. Freeze as usual.

"The next time worry claims you,
Straiten up and take a walk.
It's useless to keep brooding.
And above all—do not talk.
When once you're in the open,
Fill your lungs brim full of air,
Enjoy each breath and motion,
And for better luck prepare."

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

There are few people who can resist
a piece of nicely baked corn bread.

Country Corn Bread.—
Sift together three-quarters of a cupful of cornmeal, half a cupful of flour, one-quarter of a cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful each of soda and salt. Beat one egg, add one cupful of milk, three cupfuls of butter—oil, or still better, sou-thwestern corn oil, and mix thoroughly and bake in hot, well-buttered muffin tins 25 minutes.

Cream Cheese Salad.—This may be made with any variety of soft cheese.
To two cream cheeses add two tablespoonfuls of cream, one pimento, 24 olives and half a cupful of chopped almonds—the ingredients are chopped very fine and separately; mix all together thoroughly with a wooden spoon; press into a mold lined with paraffin paper. When firm and chilled, unmold and cut in slices. Serve on crisp French leaves of lettuce with French dressing.

Stuffed Veal Cutlets.—Pound a thin slice of veal to one-eighth of an inch in thickness, cut in pieces three by five inches. Add one-half pound of chopped veal, one slice of bacon, chopped; one-half cupful of bread crumbs, softened in milk and squeezed dry, one teaspoonful of onion juice, one teaspoonful of salt, paprika to taste, a half cupful of chopped mushroom stems. Mix and spread on the strips of veal, roll and fasten with wooden toothpicks and saute in hot salt pork fat. Put into a casserole, add stock (hot) or milk, peas, potato balls carrot balls, mushroom caps from one half pound of mushrooms. The vegetables except the mushrooms should be parboiled and cooked in fat until slightly colored before adding to the casserole. The mushrooms should be cooked in butter five minutes before adding. Add a little flour blended with some of the milk or stock and cook in the oven until the vegetables are tender. Serve from the casserole.

PECULIAR TYPE OF ORATOR

Small Wordier That in This Bombastic Age is Created Something of a Sensation.

The speaker of the occasion was of such unusual appearance that the audience gasped or giggled, according to the preferences of its members, when he came upon the rostrum.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he harshly began, "poverty would be abolished in this country if we could only save and devote to some useful purpose the time we waste in listening to Hons. Chautauqua lecturers, pointers with pride and viewers with alarm, singers who cannot sing, babbling bards, parents of bright children, bearers of messages to the waiting world, and sundry other bores whom it is not necessary to mention at this time."

And peculiar as was his personal appearance, his procedure was more unique, for, having said his say, he bowed grimly and retired from the rostrum.—Kansas City Star.

"How is that?" queried Jones.

"Because you won't be able to see if you don't," and before Jones could kick him he was out of sight.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

THIS BOOKKEEPER LOST OUT

Might Have Known That Request for Raise in Salary Would Not Give Boss Satisfaction.

A labor leader was defending strikes.

"How could men get better pay without striking for it?" he said to a New York reporter. "By asking for it, do you think?"

"I once knew a young bookkeeper who went to his boss and asked for a dollar raise. The boss flew into a terrible passion.

"But," faltered the bookkeeper, "there is nothing unreasonable, sir, in my request. Don't you remember promising me a raise after I'd been with you a year?"

"Yes," hissed the boss, "but don't you remember that I made this raise conditional on your giving me every satisfaction?"

"Oh, dear! Haven't I satisfied you sir?" said the young bookkeeper, pitifully.

"Satisfied me?" yelled the boss, "do you think you are satisfying me when you ask me for a raise?"

TRAVELING CLINIC ON WHEELS

The traveling clinic on wheels which is touring Alameda county, Cal., under the direction of the Alameda County Tuberculosis association, is said to be the first of its kind in California. The clinic goes mostly into the industrial sections where the people are mostly foreigners and are prone to neglect to have themselves or their children examined. As a result of these examinations, children having traces of tuberculosis are taken out of school and given further treatment. The clinic has all the apparatus for making laboratory tests. It cost $15,000 and was bought from the sale of Red Cross Christmas stamps. The nurses and doctors are supplied by each county and their services are free to the patients.

ROAD COURTESY AIDS MOTORIST

Spirit of Kindly Feeling Adds Greatly to Joy of Motoring in Country.

HELP OUT STRANDED DRIVER

Especially Need of Chivalrous Attitude on Part of Experienced Operator—Women Not Skilled in Coping With Trouble.

One of the big pleasures of modern motoring lies in the fact that whether the trip is for 100 or 1,000 miles, the motorist has every reason to feel sure that he will finish his journey without having to climb out of his car to undertake the disagreeable job of making repairs on the road.

But now and then some mishap occurs, and a courtesy of the road that all motorists can extend with little inconvenience to themselves is an offer of help to a fellow motorist whose car has become stranded. Such an offer is particularly timely if the scene of the mishap is some point whose remoteness from a garage would make it difficult to get assistance.

Owners Caught Unawares.

Even the most careful owners are caught, unawares, at times and find themselves far from home and minus some tool that is essential to making a repair. For instance, not so long ago, a man who prides himself on his equipment got a puncture on a lonely country road. He felt he had no cause for worry, for locked on the back of his car were two new tires ready for just such an emergency.

But when he went to get one of these tires he could not find the key to the lock. He was just getting ready to wreck the lock when a car drew up with an offer of assistance. It happened that the good Samaritan had a key that opened the lock, and put an end to the difficulty.

Many Women Unskilled.

With the number of women drivers rapidly increasing, some of them not skilled in coping with tire trouble or bad ignition, there is an especial need of a chivalrous attitude on the part of experienced drivers. The women probably ought not to be driving at all unless they know enough about a car to be able to make simple repairs, but the fact remains that some are without the requisite knowledge. Moreover, equal suffrage has not yet reduced woman to the status of man to the point where the average male would be able to square himself with his conscience if he paid no heed to a woman in distress.

In order to extend an offer to this sort it is not necessary to go through a lot of formality—a mere wave of the hand will frequently serve the purpose. But it is this spirit of kindly courtesy that adds to the joy of motoring and increases the pride of motorists in their class.

IN CASE OF HARD STARTING

Overrichness of Mixture Is Frequently Cause of Trouble—Let Gasoline Evaporate.

A not infrequent cause of hard starting is overrichness of the mixture. When this is suspected the driver had best stop trying to start for a few minutes, when the excess gasoline will have evaporated and very probably the engine will start off at the first pressure of the button or turn of the crank.

In Towing.
Whenever it is necessary for the motorist to tow another vehicle or if itself be towed the driver should be careful to hitch the rope to some part of the frame and not to the axle, which may be bent or broken.

Body Rattles.
By loosening the front and rear pair of bolts holding the body to the frame rattles and squeaks in doors and body will be practically eliminated by clipping a section of brake lining around each of the loosened bolts.

YOU CAN'T PUNCTURE THIS STYLE OF TIRE

Metal Sections About Sides Afford Protection.

Spring Ring in Inner Section Has Considerable Supporting Power as Well as Resiliency—Attachment Not Difficult.

In the collective detail view of this tire, the parts fit together in the order shown and form a complete armored tire having no inner tube. Metal sections or scales extend about the sides of the rubber tube and afford protection against puncture.

The extreme outer section, or part next to the ground, is a solid rubber band or outer tire. The inner section is a spring ring placed within the tubing, the tubing being split for the purpose. As the spring ring has considerable supporting power, as well as resiliency, the pneumatic pressure in the tube can be quite low.

On Account of the Elasticity of the Tire, the Armored Sections Are Made So They Will Glide Over One Another.

The different parts are screwed and clamped in such a way that air at low pressure will not escape. It will be seen that the upper portions of the split tube are squeezed between two metal parts, thereby forming an airtight junction. Attachment of the complete tire to the wheel is made by any of the usual clincher methods, there being nothing particularly new in that part of the construction.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE FUNTS

Shanghai, China, has a public motor truck service of twenty-five cars.

Uruguay has a motor car for every 148 inhabitants.

A magnetized screwdriver is a great convenience for the man who works about his car.

American Indians of today are working in garages, driving automobiles or trucks and operating farm tractors.

In Concord, N. H., a church runs a garage for the convenience of the motoring members of the congregation.

When you park on a hill, clinch the wheels into the curb, so that if the brakes do release the car will stand anyway.

The average car owner may not know that a layer of cinders six inches thick, makes a very satisfactory floor for the home garage.

Never mount a new tire as a spare. To do this is to invite the attention of the tire thief, whereas if an old tire is used as the spare the dishonest one probably would turn up his nose at it.

Almost every farmer in the cotton belt section of Georgia owns one or more automobiles.

No less than 30,000 tractors will be used this year in the great agricultural districts of Canada.

The New York city police department uses a Bertillon system in identifying the many makes of automobiles.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 28

HOW JESUS THE KING WAS RECEIVED.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 11 and 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.—Matt. 11:28.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 7:18-35; 10:1-16, 21, 22; 11:2-26, 23, 24.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Kind Deeds of Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Friends and Enemies of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Choosing Jesus as Our Teacher.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Response of Men to the Ministry of Jesus.

The teacher should keep in mind the progress of thought in Matthew and present these lessons accordingly. In chapters 5 to 7 we have the laws of the kingdom; chapters 8 and 9, the mighty works to demonstrate the kingdom's ability to administer the affairs of the kingdom; chapter 10, the propagation of the kingdom through the sending forth of the twelve; chapters 11 and 12, how the kingdom was received.

1. Four Classes of Hearers (ch. 11).
1. Perplexed hearers like John the Baptist (11:2-11). John believed that Jesus was the Christ (v. 2), but was somewhat perplexed as to the manner of the establishment of the kingdom. In the Old Testament predictions there were two lines in the Messianic prophecies; the one set forth Christ as the suffering one, as in Isaiah 53, and the other, as the invincible Conqueror, as in Isaiah 63. Indeed, in Isaiah 60:1, 2 we have the two advents in one view (see Matt. 3:10-12). He said that the ax is laid into the root of the trees and that there was to be a separation of the chaff from the wheat and a burning of the chaff, but now the King was occupied merely with the opening of the eyes of the blind, etc. John saw Christ as the one who would remove the sins of the people by the shedding of his blood (John 1:29), but he failed to see the interval between the time of his sufferings and the time of his triumph. Since this interval between the first and second comings—the nature of the age in which we live—was not known until Christ revealed it in the parables of the thirteenth chapter, we do not wonder at John's perplexity. John's faith was not falling him, neither did he send this deputation to Jesus for the sake of his disciples. He was a true prophet and a faithful man, but he was perplexed.

2. Violent hearers (11:12-19). These were willing to receive the kingdom according to their own way, but were unwilling to conform to its laws. They seized it with violent hands. Christ told them that before the preaching of John the Baptist, the prophets and the law were the sources of ascertaining the Divine will, and that if they would receive John, he would be the Elijah to lead them into the kingdom age. Elijah is to appear immediately before the coming of Christ in judgment (Mal. 4:5, 6), and direct the hearts of the people to the King. Their ears were closed to everything but their own carnality. They would not repent when called upon to repent by John, nor rejoice when called upon by Christ to rejoice (vv. 17-19).

3. The stout-hearted unbelievers (11:20-24). In Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum, Christ had done most of his mighty works, but the people deliberately set their hearts against him and his message. It was not for lack of knowledge and opportunity that they were unsaved, but for their purposeful rejection of Christ. Tyre and Sidon, Sodom and Gomorrah were filled with immoral profligates and idolaters, but they will be more tolerably dealt with in the day of judgment than those who wilfully reject Christ.

4. Hearers who are babes in spirit (11:25-26). There were some among those who heard Jesus with childlike faith, who believed that Christ was the Messiah, and they opened their hearts to receive him. Christ invites those who have the babe-like spirit to come to him, and to all who come to him and receive him he gives rest.

II. The Antagonism of the Kingdom.

(ch. 12).
In chapter 11 we saw the shameful indifference of the Jews to their King. In this chapter we see positive and bitter antagonism manifesting itself against him. They are not only without a heart for him, but do their best to destroy him. The immediate occasion of their wicked determination was Christ's relation to the Sabbath. Because the hungry disciples plucked corn and Jesus healed the withered hand on the Sabbath day, they sought to destroy him. They accused him of being in league with the Devil. Jesus with unanswerable logic showed them that he had blasphemed against the Holy Ghost, and were therefore guilty of an unpardonable sin. They did not deny the miracle but sought to account for it without owning him as the Messiah.

Joy of the Missionary.
How little does even the church, much less the crowd of self-centered Christians and the world, know of the travail and joy of the missionary! The real romance of missions is not yet written, and never will be, because God's greatest works are like the diamond and the dew—perfected in the secret places of the Most High—and await the great day to reveal them.—Bishop Ridley in "Snapshots From the North Pacific."

All Things Will Be Easy.
If God's spirit abide with thee all things will be easy from the spirit and love, for there is nothing that makes the soul so courageous and venturesome for anything as a good hope.—St. Chrysostom.
